For three weeks Miss McAllister had been visiting the Savage home, where Sweeney boarded. She was occupying one of the rooms on the second floor, with the oldest daughter of Mr. and

Sweeney had been a member of the Savage family ever since he was 5 months old, and was regarded almost as a son and brother.

Members of the family say they heard Sweeney, call three times Tuesday roorning when Savage went downstairs, demanding to know who was there. Savage's hearing had been failing of late-and it seems that he did not hear Sweeney, who fired through the door of his bedroom, striking Savage in the left breast, the ball lodging in his spine.

Dr. C. A. Meredith, 393A Lee avenue, said Thursday that Sweeney came after him when Savage was shot, came back the second time to urge him to hurry and seemed to be very much concerned about the patient's condition. All the circumstances, he said, bear out the statement that the shooting was accidental.

KANSAS' PURSE DRAINED BY THE DEVLIN FAILURE

Tie-Up and Possible Loss of Chautauquans at Ottawa Driven $500,000 of State's Funds Will Prevent Payment of Salaries of Employes.

CONDITION MAY LAST FOR THREE MONTHS

Assistant Auditor of State Says That No More Salary Warrants Will Be Drawn Until Affairs Straightened.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 6.-By the failre of the First National Bank here Monday the State of Kansas became bankrupt, and the State officers and employes of State charitable and penal others twist the tail of the trusts. itions will receive no salaries until October, unless some way out of nt difficulties can be found. The bank carried a deposit of $547,000 onging to the State. It has about $500,000 on deposit in other banks, but of a total amount of $1,000,000 in the banks of the State about half belongs to permanent funds that cannot be used. Kansas has been bankrupt at other times in the past, but in these instances Auditor has issued the warrants and after they were countersigned by sist that although most of the follow-

Nation, Asistant Auditor of the State

"The very best that we can possibly do will be to pay a part of the expenses for the next three months and the rest will have to go unpaid. At that the State will be bankrupt until the af-fairs of the Devlin Bank can be straightened.

"For the present, at least, we will issue no warrants at all. If we did so there would be no way of replenishing the permanent school and other funds from which the money would have to be drawn, and we do not care to take the chance of using any of the money from them."

NEW YORK, July 6.—Surgeons in a local hospital are puzzled over the case of Harvey Mowak, who, during an altereation on a ferry boat on the Fourth of July, who was shot by a fellow passenger. The bullet entered his left breast and was at first thought to be harmless, but a further examination has revealed that it lodged in the man's learn.

pecial to the Post-Dispatch. OTTAWA, Kan., July 6.-Too much water has quenched to a degree the enthusiasm of the Chautauquans who have gathered to hear Thomas W. Lawson, Gov. La Follette of Wisconsin and

While they were anticipating the visits of these the Maries des Cygnes River which is not nearly as pretty as its name, overflowed its banks and caused the campers to take to the high ground. There is more water in this assembly ground than in Amalgamated Copper. about in connection with the outrages committed by the Standard Oil Co. The promoters of the Chautaudua in-

La Follette delivers them. But in this case the Auditor re- today will wake them up and make them forget their discomforts. The Governor is expected to tell of corruption in State by the railroads, which to the Kansas idea are always bad, unless handing out annual passes. These simple minded Kansas farmers who make up the greater portion of the Chautauquans can see no harm in a wheat or corn corner so long it raises the prices paid them, but do "view with alarm" the strenuous efforts of the Standard Oil Co. to more effectually monopolize its petroleum pro> duction.

> Standard Oil to these people is the real trust devil and they expect to hear District Attorney Jerome of New York and Thomas W. Lawson paint it in its red colors. They are going to insist, too, upon having a real old-fashioned orthodox trust devil of red color, with horns and cloven hoofs and a general odor of brimstone about it. That is the kind they want and they have been led to believe that Mr. Lawson and Mr.

"They get onto the business mighty quick. Now they're baiting the crowd with this man Jerome and holding their best act. Thomas W. Lawson, for the last. That holds the crowd and maybe then they can sell a few tickets to the concert which will follow in the main tent."

That is true, too. Lawson and his "Frenzied Finance" are billed from Kansas City to Ottawa, a distance of 60 miles. The Chautauquans do not know about Mr. Jerome, but his name has been coupled with that of Lawson's know about Mr. Jerome, but his name has been coupled with that of Lawson's so much that they are willing to take a chance on him. Lawson's stock is so far above par that without an effort he could be elected to any office in the gift of the Chautauquans, although they have never seen him.

During the little time allowed for discussion of politics by the Chautauquans, who have been kept busy, rescuing their belongings from the floor or the train, the only subject has been Lawson.

And if Mr. Lawson does not make ood-well, every one of the Chautau-uans has read his statement that if the doesn't answer every question con-terning Standard Oil they can take him out and hang him. There are lots high trees growing along the edge the flooded district.

They never did a piece of work in their lives of this sort or anything calculated to equip them for doing it.

Promise to Prosecute Equitable Life Assurance Society Wrongdoers for Plain Stealing Causes Flurry.

HYDE HAS NOT MADE RESTITUTION OF MONEY

Scandal Created by Collapse of Shipbuilding Trust and Connection With the Equitable to Be Reinvestigated.

> By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, July 6.-Aided by the evelations now being made in the inancial affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society and its former officers, District-Attorney, Jerome will reew his investigation into the scandalous floating of the United States Shipbuilding Co., commonly known as the augurating criminal proceedings.

The statement is made on authority that the next installment of the report of Francis Hendricks, State Superin-endent of Insurance, dealing with his Equitable investigation, will assert that officials of the society have dealt in he society. This statement was emchatically denied by a representative of Mr. Hyde. If it proves true it is in lirect violation of the insurance laws. The new grand jury has been sworn in, but will do little work until Mr.
Jerome returns to town next week.

The ship building matter has direct connection with the Equitable through the Mercantile Trust Co., of which the society owns a majority of stock. Numerous officers and former directors of the Equitable were involved in the shipyards flasco. Enormous sums have been repaid in restitution and many suits are still pending against the promo

There is much speculation as to the grounds on which the District Attorney expects to inaugurate his criminal proceedings. Some of the lawyers representing former Equitable officials said that Mr. Jerome would try to frame conspiracy charge, and that he would conspiracy charge, and that he would make a fiasco.

The Post-Dispatch is in a position to state that Mr. Jerome has not in mind at present any conspiracy charge, He seeks evidence that will enable him to prosecute a simple charge of seand loreceny. In other words, just plain stealing. He is after one or two cases which will show that persons connected with the Equitable took dollars that did not belong to them out of the Equitable treasury, and if he secures the necessary evidence the men whom it implicates are to be regarded as simply thieves and to be tried for that crime. Everybody tried to find out what Mr. Tarbell had told Mr. Jerome but to all inquiries the vice-president replied: "I have nothing to say." Coursel for James H. Hyde pooh-pooled the whole business. He assured the newspaper representatives that his client had absolutely nothing to fear from all the investigation that the District Attorney might make, and that not the slightes evidence existed on which criminal prosecution might be based. As for ship-building affairs, Mr. Hyde, he declared never had the slightest connection in lany form with that corporation.

'LID" ON IN NEW YORK

District Attorney Tells How He Drove Gambling Out of the City.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo.. July 6.—William Travers Jerome, reformer, District At-torney of New York City, passed through Kansas City last night on the way to the Chautauqua at Ottawa, Kan., where he speaks Friday. One of the first things the New York eformer ordered here was a stein of

"Yes, the lid is on in New York." ald Attorney Jerome; "that is, that part of the lid on which I am supposed o sit. That is the gambling. Driving ft out was my specialty. It was a lang. hard fight, but it is gone now. gone for and they could not gamble if they

we brought games out of some of those places that had been there so long that the oldest inhabitants did not know how they should be played. The spindles from the routette wheels I have taken to my little cottage down in Connecticut and am transforming them into various useful articles, such as candlesticks and the like.

"As far as the keeping saloons open on Sunday is concerned, why, I made no attempt to close them. I felt that the Folice Commissioners should de something and it is up to them.

"There has been no action, either, against the poolrooms. You know I can't quite see the justice of allowing persons to gamble on one side of a fence and not on the other. That is the way the law reads there. A man who pays $2 for a ticket can go to the track and gomble all he wants to because Belment and that rich racing crowd have it so arranged; still they don't want to give a man a chance to bet in a poolroom.

"Fine theatef that, does it belong to the trust?" pointing to the Willis-Wood. Receiving an affirmative reply Mr. Jerome continued, "Now, that is the most cruel, the most brutal organization of all. Their work is simply awful. Why, when the case of the dramatic critic who is barred from the trust theaters came up in court, Oscar Hammerstein, one of the sing, gave the whole smap away.

"The trust managers are being held now and the case is before the Supreme Court on habeas corpus proceedings."

AKIN TO PROHIBITION OF CHILDREN'S LABOR

Method of Civics Which Teaches Child Qualifications of Senators Instead of Sanitary Rules All Wrong, Says Another.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 6.—Prof. Franklin H. Giddins of Columbia University, in talking to the Teachers Convention on "The Social and Legal Aspect of Compulsory Education and Child Labor," brought out an interesting phase of the situation. He said, in

"Compulsory education by the State and the prohibition of child labor are policies undoubtedly socialistic in character. They assert the supremacy of the State's interest in the child as against any opposing interest of the parent. We hear a great deal lately about 'race suicide.' Large families are no longer seen, especially in so-called middle class. It is strange that no one has pointed out the connection between the increased demand upon parents to maintain their children in school, foregoing the earnings that children might add to the family income, and the diminishing size of the average family. The connection, however, is undoubtedly a real one, and the practical inference is obvious. "If the restriction of child labor is desirable; if compulsory education is desirable, and if, at the same time. large families are also desirable, the State must make up to the family at least some part of the income that children could earn if they were permitted freely to enter upon industrial employments. question, therefore, that we The question, therefore, that we shall have face and to answer is this:

Shall the State pay parents for keeping Shall the State pay parents for keeping their children in school between the of 10 and 14? This would be a pol-of socialism. undoubtedly. I do not tend to say whether the American people will or will not admit it. I only that as a matter of social causaion they will be compelled to adopt it f they try to maintain both large fumlies and compulsory education, while wohlbiting child labor in department res and factories."

George H. Martin, Secretary of the n. In an exhaustive review of the shild's rights, gave it as his opinion that there should be legislative provision to keep all children in school till the age of 14. their course to include industrial training, and that they be hibited to work for wages du in a col hours or in any employment dan is to health and morals.

Miss Julia Richman of New York City on "the immigrant child," said: "The Americanization of the child, while the prents remain foreign in thought, language and custom, means domestic shipwreck. The school must give to the parents correct American standards. In order to acquaint parents as well as children with a respect for the law, we must change our methods of teaching civics. A community needs know edge of local ordinances before it needs to know the divisions of the National Government. It is far more essential that they should be taught to obey the ment house and other sanitary laws, to keeling escapes clear, and to separate ashes from garbage, than to memorize the qualifications of a United States Senator or to name the members of the President's Cabinet. Ours is the great opportunity of rendering the rare and hely services of making a true American citizen out of an immigrant child. The proper education for the business min, in the opinion of John Brisbane Walker, editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine, is founded on a little preliminary knowledge of the universe, geology, chemistry, botany and some knowledge of the miser. "Knewledge of our own parents correct American standards. In knowledge of the universe, geology, chemistry, botany and some knowledge of himself. "Knowledge of our own language." he said, "is an importantactor in business success. But beyond his own tongue, no one should waste upon language ancient or modern, the precious minutes of the all too short time which he can give to the race. He has but so many seconds to win his goal; and he must keep constantly in mind the course he has set himself to pursue; if he deviates he loses.

"Personal integrity above temp atton," he concluded, "constitutes the highest concluded of him who seeks business success."

My health began to improve as soon as the drug effect of the old coffee was removed and the Postum Coffee had time to make its influence felt. The Delmar Garden musical company will advance into comic opera next week by producing "The Princess Chic." This will require a tenor, and it is understood that Delamotto may join the company during the engagement. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was the vehicle used by the Berkeley Players in opening their summer Shaks-pearean season at Koerner's Garden Monday evening. Good business has been played to during the week and the present bill will continue until Sunday night. Open-air productions of Shaks-peare are a novelty in St. Louis, and promises to be a most popular form of entertainment. With no covering to the stage and auditorium other than the stage and auditorium other than the stage sand flowering shrubbery, the costumes of the players present an attractive picture. Miss Pearl Evans in the part of Puck, which is the central figure of the beautiful woodland fairy comedy, has made a good impression. The Hermia of Miss Josephine Winters and the Helena of Miss Isabel O'Madigan are being played with artistic ease. Horace Lyndon, who appears as Demetrias, is the possessor of a rich voice, and his lines have been much enjoyed. Harry Powell has invested the minor part of Theseus with grace. Miss Blanche Levering, in the role of Oberon, King of the Fairies, has found a part for which she is well fitted. Miss May Beresville makes a very sweet Titania. The comedy parts of the hardhanded men of Athens are well handled, especially the Nick Bottom of Edgar Vincent Taylor and the Flute of Will Maclaskey.

BROADWAY AND

Frisco Money-Lender Sues for Judgment on Note With 10 Per Cent Interest Compounded Monthly.

pecial to the Post-Dispatch. SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.-Nn March 12, 1901, Arthur H. Clark gave a promisory note to Martin Aronsohn in return for a loan of $30. Yesterday John Lapique, to whom the note had been transferred, applied to Justice of the Peace Dunn for a judgment for the $30 principal and also for $3,821.32 additional, representing the interest alleged to be due at 10 per cent a month, compounded nonthly. Justice Dunn declined to give adgment, though the defendant had deaulted, considering that to do so vould constitute a travesty on both law would constitute a travesty on bottoms, and justice.

"I base my refusal," he said, "on the ground that the pleadings are technically insufficient to justify the entering of the judgment asked for, but I may said that on general principles. I think ground that the pleadings are technically insufficient to justify the entering of the judgment asked for, but I may add that, on general principles. I think I shall refuse to do anything of the kind, unless compelled to do so by a writ of mandate Issued from a court of superior jurisdiction. When the claim for the judgment was presented to Justice Dunn by Lapique the former refused to believe that the claimant was serious, and his next idea was that some tremendous mistake had been made in estimating the interest on the original loan. An hour of calculation, however, served to carry his honor far enough to make him willing to believe that the interest, at the rate stated and compounded monthly, might well amount to the total given.

The plaintiff was particular not to lose anything that was coming to him and put in a claim also for $5 costs in the case. Lapique is the individual who attracted attention to himself a year ago by bringing suit for $100,000 damages for alleged malicious persecution and false imprisonment against A. Reuf and several dozen other prominent residents of the city, whom he charged with having hounded him for years.

HARRY MACLEAN COMES HOME A MOORISH NOBLE

Scotchman Who Has Been Chief Adviser of the Sultans of Morocco for 25 Years Returning to Britain.

HIS LIFE ONE OF STIRRING ADVENTURE.

Has Made Great Record as Soldier and Diplomat, Fighting Both Brigands of Mountains and Ministers of European Countries.

LONDON, July 6 .- Sir Harry Aubrey de Vere Maclean, to give him his full English title, who, after serving as a British soldier, resigned from the British army in 1876 to be a Moor, is now leaving his beautiful palace in Morocco and returning to England.

A keen, clever Scotsman, in Moorish dress; a man rather short of stature. gifted with commanding ability and great courage; a striking figure, clothed in loose trousers tucked into tall riding boots, an embroidered coat of zouave style, a soft white turban and a loose robe falling from his shoulders—such is Kald Maclean, late commander-in-chief of the grand army of the Sultan of Morocco. The sight of one eye has e, but the other is good enough for Something over a quarter of a century ago a young Scotsman, being on duty in Gibraltar, took a jaunt across Morocco. At the instance of the late r John Drummand Hay, then British Minister at the court of the Sultan, he was offered the post of musketry instructor to the Moorish army. Being a scotsman, and therefore far-seeing, he 'grasped the skirts of happy chance'

He taught the Moor how to shoot. and, as master of military things in a neisls of bounds accessful men, he was a constant victim of jealousy. There were those who watched with a "green eye" his influence with the Suitan and his careful handling of the army, and in the course of time a "military mission" (from France was placed at the Sultan's disposal. But all the moves on the continental chessboard falled to break the confidence his imperial master had in him.

Up and down the land the Kaid Maclean journeyed with the late Sultan and he was with him during the last dramatic march from Marrakesh to Rabat, In the last journey the "son of Mohammed" then became a weary old man, broken in the rough ways of a curious country, and died amid the stir of rebellion and bloodshed. It was on this march that Sir Harry Maclean had the task of traveling by the bler of the dead King, kept gorgeous with the fiction of life. "We must not let it be known that "We must not let it be known that the Sultan Mulal el Hasan is dead until we can safely proclaim his successor," they said, so they bore the body on a state litter and the sheikahs and khalifas paid homage to the poor clay under its trappings of green and gold just as if it were their royal master still alive and powerful.

Then Mulai And el Aziz reached Rose

Then Mulai Abd-el-Aziz reached Rabat in safety, and the news of the death of the old Sultan was proclaimed and the body was laid beside the grave of his ancestor, Sidi Mahommed. So necessary had it been to maintain the death secret that the body had been carried into Rabat through a hole in the wall at the dead of night.

The ghastly mockery was followed by a period of added influence for the Kaid Maclean. The uneasy throne of the young Sultan served to give Maclean still greater opportunities for wise counsel, ready resources and prompt action in crises. The young Sultan served to give Maclean still greater opportunities for wise counsel, ready resources and prompt action in crises. The young Sultan eame to the throne with no knowledge of the world outside the walls of the harem. To his credit be it said that he had the wit to recognize in Maclean and the strong man to lean upon.

As illustrations of Maclean's endurance and resource it may be mentioned that he has often been in the saddle 19 hours out of the 24, and that when he lost the use of his right eye he made himself a dead shot from the left soulder. He has long had the title of "the pest interpreter in Morocco," and he has favorably impressed the Sultan with English ideas and diplomacy.

It was found that men who were on the night shift had not been giving themselves the rest and sieep they should have had during the day. They fell asleep in their chairs and when awakened by an alarm were dazed and unfit for duty, a condition which d d not result from an awakening from a sound sleep under the old sys em. The 24 hours' continuous service n c sailated every week by the change from the night to day shift produced the same conditions. The foremen, captains and lieutenants reported that the men were without "vim or ambitton."

On on occasion a hook and ladder company in the battalion had to be sent back to quarters because of its proved inability to do its work. Another empany had to be put in its place. The men themselves complained. The cas s in which charges had to be preferred for failure to perform duty increased.

The two young ladies had started to the country place of Daniel Strassen, six miles east of Edwardsville, to spend the afternoon. When the storm threatened they turned and started for home but the rain overtook them and they sought shelter under a shed on the roadside.

Suddenly a defening roar of thunder accompanied by a flash of lightning, rendered the girls unconscious and it was several seconds before they recovered from the shock and found that the lightning had struck the barn adjoining the shed under which they were sheltered. Their horse was killed instantly, and the lightning, like a great knife, tore enormous holes in the structure, shattering beams and scantlings. The torrent of rain prevented fire.

The two girls made their way on foot through the drenching rain and mud to their home. Miss Olive Duban is a former school teacher, and Miss Fanny Duban is a clerk at the Edwardsville Courthouse.

STICK TO SAFE AND SANE METHODS In devising plans to assure the enforcement of the laws in St. Louis County, where an official ring is apparently countenancing, if not actually protecting, lawbreakers, Gov. Folk should not adopt radical measures of doubtful legality, or of an arb trary and undemocratic nature. The suggestion that the militia be used to force saloonkeepers and gamblers to obey the law is tainted with both of these faults Although the Governor is the chief executive of the State, charged with the power and responsibility of general law enforcement, the constitution and the laws do not contemplate a dictatorship. The Governor should keep within the powers and the methods defined in the statutes. Both the spirit and the letter of the constitution maintain the principle of local self-government in the counties and the supremacy of the civil authorities until all of its resources are exhausted. It is clear that the use of the militia is to be resorted to only in the last extremity when the civil authority is powerless to cope with conditions of riot, disorder and lawlessness.

. Of doubtful legality and wisdom is the proposal to send the police of St. Louis into the county to supersede the local authorities. In the adoption of the Scheme and Charter the City of St. Louis was sepapurely technical warrant aused by the overlooking of of all kinds. Is Gov. The calling of an extra session for the purpose of passing laws to meet the extraordinary condition prevailing in the county is a matter of judgment. Certainly the suggestion that a State board be created to take over the powers of the people of the county is neither wise nor democratic.

Gov. Folk's effort to enforce the anti-gambling laws and his general policy of enforcing the laws are approved by an overwhelming majority of good citizens. But the strength of the sentiment behind the Governor does not warrant arbitrary or illegal measures. It should rather prompt him to keep within reason and law and to accomplish his purpose by patient and persistent effort, being assured of ultimate success through popular approval and supmay, under other circumstances, be abused for the oppression of the people, should be avoided. from safe, sane, democratic methods. The wise course is to persist in vigorous efforts to have the laws enforced by the local civil authorities and to avoid illegal or undemocratic action, or a course violating the principle of local self govmernment, which is the foundation of republican institutions. Gov. Hoch is original and eccentric, as a loyal Kansas man ought to be. But not even a Kansan can overcome convention with good common sense.

Who Were the Vikings?—The warlike attitude assumed by Sweden towards Norway will cause the student of history to wonder whether, in case of hostilities on sea, the descendants of the Vikings will display martial qualities as sailors such as made their daring ancestors so famous. According to the Scandinavian sagas or hero songs, the Vikings flourished chiefly in the period between the eighth and eleventh centuries. They harried the coasts of Europe, especially those of England and Normandy. The historian Froude stigmatizes them as "hole and corner pirates," but it is evident that many of their incursions were rather home-seeking expeditions, as they founded settlements in England, Ireland, Shetland, Iceland, Normandy, Spain, Sicily and other countries. The term "sea king' applied to them appears to be merely a corruption of the name Viking, which was derived from the Icelandic word vik, a bay or flord.

HIGH IDFALS, PIN-MONEY PRICES. The declaration of Prof. William Schuyler of St. Louis before the National Educational Association that the schoolmaster should be a man of the world; that "his acquaintances and some of his close friends should be men of very different life from his own," coupled with the statement of Prof. Isaac Thomas of Burlington, Vt., that the predominance of female teachers is responsible for the fact that not more than 20 per cent of the children enrolled ever get through the high school, and that "this Insurance companies may learn to live the simple predominance is harmful to the girls and absolutely disastrous to the boys" is so revolutionary as to make the uprising at Odessa look like a downtown crowd watching the baseball bulletins.

Pedantry and petticoats have so long been associated with the popular idea of the public school and have seemed so essential to its welfare, that this double suggestion of driving the schoolmarm from her throne and filling her place with a man who is "up to snuff," rather than up to 100 per cent in psychology and the like, is almost certain to jar the public nerves.

Prof. Schuyler's idea is that it is the business of the schoolmaster "to fit his charges for life in the world as it is, not as it should be." To do this he must first know the world himself; to know the world he must associate with it "as it is." In doing this he may run across a good many highballs and rank cigars, but of this the children need not know. He must be the master, not the slave, of the world." He must put away his pedantry and strike a gait. This the ladies cannot do; ergo, thin out the ladies; give us men with whiskers and habits.

What we need is efficiency, not effeminacy. But how do Prof. Schuyler and Prof. Thomas expect to accomplish this change when pin-money school boards are not willing to pay highball prices for educators?

Is the Sonntagezwang on in Philadelphia? ### AN EXAMPLE OF MONOFOLY.

An example of the exercise of monopoly power pure and simple, is the imposition of an arbitrary bridge toll on business consigned to St. Charles over the Alton bridge.

The conditions do not differ from what they were a year ago, except that the St. Louis Terminal Railroad Association has secured control of the bridge. transportation facilities. It repres Terminal Association charges because it can.

Nothing could better illustrate the truth that nonopoly power is never in alliance with justice. There may be a benevolent despot here and there, but a monopoly characterized by a love of fair play is impossible.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The home-coming of Gen. Trouble has been brewing in the insular possessions for more than a year. There is friction between Gov. Wright and military officers. Apparently, Gen. danger of death in St. Vincent's Hospital on Staten Island.

The course of the bullet was traced yesterday. So astounded were the doctors that they refused to believe the evidence of the probe. They subjected the patient to X-rays, and verified the fact that the bullet had traversed two vital spots. Drs. Brady and Bossford of the hospital staff, made the diagnosis. They repeated the X-ray examination before other surgeons, so there is no doubt of the nature of the wound. Harry Nowok started out for day of pleasure on Tuesday, but while crossing the bay on a ferry boat he was hit in the left breast by a bullet from a revolver which Max Dascher was displaying to a friend. It was feared Nowok would not live until the Saien Island shore was reached, but by that time he speared stronger, having railled from the shock. The fact that the man was the shock. The fact that the man was considered that through an unfortunate lapse of memory he forgot that he was hit fall appeared Wednesday as a witness in the mandamus, case of Louis Arras, village clerk, charged with falling to make an annual report, and went to St. Louis to visit his cousin. There was no indication that a change for the worse is likely.

drowned at Johnsville, Duchess County, under peculiar circumstances.

The boy was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brandon, who were married three years ago in New York. Mrs. Brandon is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hupfel.

The nurse dressed the boy and took him out in the baby carriage. She was accustomed to wheel the child about the paths surrounding the private lake on the estate.

The nurse left the carriage while she went back into the house to talk with the laundress. The child was strapped into the carriage.

It is presumed a gust of wind started the carriage down the inclined path on which it stood, for when the nurse returned after being, according to her own story, away less than two minutes the carriage and baby were missing.

Grapping irons were procured and a few minutes later the men puiled the carriage out. In it the boy lay dead. Special to the Poss-Dispatch.

While the Ambassador will not discuss the subject in advance of the completion, his report will strongly urge that his Government take steps to induce his countrymen who come to America to go to the agricultural regions, as these sections present greater opportunities for employment and the conditions of health are much better than in the slums of the great cities where many of the Italians drift.

TOMMY, GREEDY BOY OF THE EQUITABLE ARMISTICE HOPE | CALL OF THE WILD DASHED BY JAPAN WINS DEWEY AGAIN

Announced at St. Petersburg That Mikado's Government Refuses Temporary Peace.

GORKY FOR CONTINUANCE

Says the War Is Helping the People of Russia to Emancipation.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World. ST. PETERSBURG, July 6.—Hope of armistice so expectant yesterday seems to have received a sudden check. It is announced from army headquarters to-day that Japan will not agree to an armistice until Russia shall have as-sented in a general way to the terms of peace which Japan proposes through her plenipotentiaries.

This is a severe setback to those who hoped that the war in Manchuria practically is ended so far as active fight-ing is concerned.

However, it is not believed that Japan ntends to push things to an extreme in ampaigning against Linevitch. Maxim Gorky, the eminent Russian author, awaiting trial for treason, says in an interview today: "I am for continuing the war und ditionally. It has been an instructive esson to the people and the best pro of this is afforded by current events of this is anorded by current events.

Being asked: "How about the innoce soldiers and sailors sent to death in hopeless cause, and how about the courry which has the burden of war bear?" Gorky answered: "Did those siders and sailors live happily before twar? Was the country prosperous a contented? The present war is helpil to be mancipate ourselves from oth us to emancipate ourselves from oil enemies. It will be a heavy price wh we will pay for these guarantees, wh will give the people an opportunity untrammelled development and will g the country a new birth upon sound litical principles."

The final round in singles between Mc-City, winners in the tournament, turned so out to be mere practice work for the St. Louis pair. The match was won in straight sets, the scores being 6-0, 6-2 and 6-0.

The second semi-final and final rounds in singles were also played Wednesday. In the morning Dr. Shelden defeated Dr. Semple, 7-5 and 6-4, but was easily beaten by McKittrick in the final round. The scores were 6-3, 6-3 and 6-0.

So apparent was the champion's superiority over the challengers that the match lacked interest after the first set. Wear, who made his first appearance on the courts during the tournament, displayed the form that won for him the individual championship last year. His service caused the Kansas City players considerable worry.

Much of the land of the company is already in successful cultivation under the one-third profits plan. It is proposed by us to put a great deal of this land on the market. At prices ranging from $30 to $50 per acre it presents a very promising form of investment, as its value is bound to rise. It is equally as good and productive land as land which sells in Illinois at $100 per acre. There is no better soil in this State for raising the celebrated Missouri red apple. It is part of the plan under the new order of things for the company producing the ore from the mines to mill and bleach it and to take stock in the American Pigment and Chemical Co., which is to manufacture pigments with the baryta. There is a great demand for baryta as an ingredient in paints. Its mixture in pigments gives them a durable and lasting quality. Its use in extending expensive pigments like Venetian red, brown, green and French ochre cheapens their price while it improves them. Being one of the most neutral and insoluble substances known in chemicals, barytes is not affected by chemicals, barytes is not affected by chemicals.

No. 30 Had Got Hold of a Guest Who Was Lavish With most serious robbery ever perpetrated Tips and Worked Long Overtime to Keep Good Thing to Himself, Whereat Others Kicked

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.. July 6—Because beliboy No. 30 of the West Hotel had a good thing that he insisted upon keeping to himself, the other eight of the uniformed young men who toy with the luggage, Juggle sundry pitchers of icewater and otherwise cater to the needs of the guests, lined up in a military formation before the desk and informed Clerk Perry that if No. 30 controlled And sent to the pentientiary for the crime. In the regulations governing the beliboys no rule to cover this case and Clerk Perry was at a loss to know just how to solve the difficulty. It did not appeal to him as quite proper to compel a boy to stop working if he wisled to continue on duty.

His final decision was that he would not do anything in the matter, and thereupon the eight beliboys marchel out of the lobby. They adjourned to formed Clerk Perry that if No. 30 continued to monopolize this said good thing that they would strike.

With longing eyes they had witnessed No. 30 waxing exceedingly opulent through a large number of tips that he had received from one of the guests. The needs of this guest in particula were many and each little service at one room in the hotel always netted a tidy sum to the bellboy. No. 30 was a prime favorite with this guest and wheneve anything was wanted in his room, No

Robbery in the treasury of the United States is rare, but it has been accomplished, but always by trusted em-ployes. No effort from the outside could possibly prove successful without overcoming all the means for protection that human ingenuity has been able to The most recent theft in the treasury was discovered when the count was made preparatory to turning the contents of the vaults over to Mr. Roberts when he came into office, July 1, 1897. At that time there was $579,000,000 in the vaults.

In counting the money at the time some of the bags of sliver on the top shelves of the huge coin vault were found to be badly worn. They were opened, with the purpose in view of ubstituting new bags. The amazement the first bag opened was found to be exact as to weight, but short in value due to the substitution of leaden discs for a number of silver dollars that had en abstracted. The usual method of unting by weight was immediately abandoned, and every bag in the treasary was opened and the coin actually ury was opened and the coin actually handled and counted. Upward of 800 of the silver dollars in one vault were dound to have been stolen.

Investigation proved that un old and trusted colored employe, whose busings and the beauty stuff for more than 30,600 pounds. As each milion of gold occupies 17 ouble feet of space, the $8,500,000 gold in the vaults would make a shaft two feet square and would make a shart two feet square and 35 feet high. If a force is employed equal to that of eight years ago, each clerk will handle about 100 tons of coin, to say nothing of the paper currency and bonds. This last, high as it is, will move along with absolute precision without interfering with the current business of the office. The retirement count of the money in the subtreasurier his own funds.

Free Gold in the Treasury.

It must be understood that the $8,-500,000 gold mentioned is not the total of that precious metal belonging to Uncle Sam. That sum might be designated as "free gold" in the treasury here. The vast majority of the gold and bullion is kept in the subtreasury in New York City, where it is more convenient for the demands of commerce. The reasury stock of gold aggregates $766 -595,327, divided as follows: Gold coin and bullion in the division of redemption, known as the "reserve fund," $150,000,-00; gold coin, known as trust funds, $517,049,909; gold coin and bullion in the general fund, $29,545,358.

During the administration of Treasarer Spinner, $40,000 in notes were stolen from the vaults, but a portion of the money was recovered. This was the in the department. A young man b the name of Halleck was assistan vault clerk at the time, and was sub-thereupon the eight beliboys marched out of the lobby. They adjourned to one of the rooms in the basement and debated what course to pursue. For 30 minutes their conference lasted.

Meanwhile No. 30 was the only boy on duty and he was flying about, madly trying to do the work of the entire force. Quests in their rooms, impatient when their summons was not answered, were ringing loud and long for boys. No 30 did the best he could, but there were dozens of guests all over the house who wanted something done and Jury Disagreed on Evidence. anything was wanted in his room, No. 30 was called.

The other "belihops" did not object to No. 30 making a "strike," but the source of their discontent was that No. 30 continued to stay on watch and answer the bell of this room after his day's work was over. This they felt was overtraining on a good thing. They had offered congratulations to No. 30 when they saw that each succeeding trip to the room increased his supply of pocket money. What they did not like was to have No. 30 continue at work after heurs for the express purpose of keep-heurs for the express purpose of keep-heurs for the cacumulation of calls waiting.

It was supposed that the messenger in carrying the books in and out of the vauit had taken the package and concealed it under his coat. Upon the evidence, however, the jury disagreed. Afterward it was discovered that the messenger's wife had passed one of the bills at a milliner's store. Several of the stolen bills drifted into the National Bank of the Republic. Quite a number were also found subsequently in Macon. Ga., upon a colored main named Turner, who was a candidate for postmaster of that city.

Turner was located by the secret service men, and Geo. H. Wood, a clerk in the office of the Comptroller, who was then visiting friends in Macon. A considerable portion of this money was recovered. Shureman, the messenger, kept a small grocer's store, and it was alleged at the time of his trial that large quantities of other supplies from the department were found on his shelves.

AMERICAN BARS POPULAR CATHOLIC CHURCH

German Capital Takes to Perpendicular Drinking With Enthusiasm.

BERLIN, July 6.-Of late American bars have become decidedly popular in Germany, and no first-class hotel in any of the great cities is considered complete without a real American barroom, although the Germans as a rule are opposed to "perpendicular drink-room, although the Germans as a trinking."

The military authorities, however, have long disapproved of these bars, and the growing taste for American cocktails among army officers, and after many deliberations an order has been issued by the Commanding General of the district of Hanover forbidding officers and men to visit American bars, of which there are several in the city of Hanover, because they tend to promote intemperance in the army.

"The habit of rushing up to a bar and gulping down the greatest possible number of drinks in the shortest possible time is exceedingly demoralizing," said the General in an interview, "and is contrary to the nature of the German people.

"I intend to do everything in my power to abolish American bars, and only wish that I could get the civil authorities to join me."

REFWERY IS FNIOINED.

Cost Probably $100,000.

Following closely on the sales of the vicinity of Tower Grove Park comes the announcement from Archibshop Giennon that a Catholic parish will soon be established among the new home owners, arrangements having been made to build the church at Grand avenue and Utah street. It is understood the fiew edifice will cost $100,000.

"We want a church that will be a credit to Southwest St. Louis," says the Archbishop.

The Archbishop.

The Archbishop has not yet decided whom he will select for the pastorate of the Tower Grove Church.

It is possible an examination may be held for this purpose and that the po-credit to Southwest St. Louis," says the Archbishop.

The Archbishop has not yet decided whom he will select for the pastorate of the Tower Grove Church.

It is possible an examination may be held for this purpose and that the position will fall to one of the younger clergymen of the diocese.

Archbishop Glennon left Tuesday to administer confirmation in several interior Missouri towns and will probably not return until the end of the week.

There has been considerable talk in Catholic circles recently of the possible appointment of a coadjutor to Archbishop Glennon, who has not even employed a secretary to assist him in his diocesan labors. Archbishop Glennon will not discuess the matter.

Within the past few months he has confirmed about 75,000 children and this alone, although merely an incidental labor, is cited as one of the reasons why the may be urged to request the services of an assistant.

BREWERY IS ENJOINED.

Labor Trouble Over a Contract for Cork Insulation. Judge McPherson of the United States Circuit Court Thursday granted a temporary restraining order to the Armstrong Cork Co. of Pittsburg against the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, the firm of Widmann, Walsh & Boisseliere and 20 members of the St. Louis Building Trades Council, to prevent the continuance of construction work at the brewery for which the Pittsburg company claims to have the contract.

Pittsburg company claims to have the contract.

The petition for an injunction sets out that the plaintiff company was given the sub-contract by Widmann, Waish & Boisseliere to insulate several warehouse rooms at the brewery with cork, and that the company sent its employes here to do the work. Objection was made by the Trades Council because the men were not members of the union and June 9 there was a strike among the other employes. The contractors then, it is alleged, informed the Armstrong company that the work must not be delayed and that union men should be employed. The application for a restraining order was made to Judge Finkelnburg of the Federal court.

Judge Finkelnburg, having been in the employment of the Anheuser-Busch company as counsel, referred the case to Judge McPherson. Arguments will be heard in the case July 23.

War Widows, She Says, Wil Think of Dead Husbands and Can't Remarry.

BY ROSE MARION. "Cherry blossoms scattering are beau-tiful," said Tamma Ide, and her dark eyes seemed to look beyond the lunch table and her American women friends All the fun wrinkles in her face became smooth, her lips closed and her little black head with its bow of black ribbon and its many combs held itself quite erect. She was thinking of the avenue of Cherry Blossoms in Tokio. She had been telling us of the happiness of the feast of the Cherry Blossoms.

We listened wonderingly and we, too, sat quite still when Tamma Ide let her thoughts go to her home in Japan. This was her good-by lunch. By this time she has probably departed for San Francisco from which point she will tail for her home country.

There are indications that at least one large consuming interest in the foundry trade has begun to feel the foundry trade has begun to feel the market for pig iron seriously, but that is the exception. The deadlock is really unbroken and the drift of events seems to favor the buyers since Southern Iron has weakened further and some smaller interests have accepted the basis of $11 for No. 2 foundry at Birmingham.

The leading interests in all the principal producing sections, however, are abstaining from any attempt to force pig iron upon unwilling buyers. It will ake some striking event to start the buying movement, some merchants believing that we may drag along in this manner for the whole of this month. Steel and Iron.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Iron Age in its issue of today says:

The feeling in the iron trade generally is distinctly nopeful and yet there is little that is tangible to justify increased optimism. Those branches which saved/the situation after the check of the late spring are still the backbone of the good times. There are the structural and the plate trades, which are flourishing through the railroad buying of cars and engines and the heavy requirements for buildings, bridges and ships for the lakes. As an indication of the volume of business being done, the fact may be mentioned that the American Bridge Co. alone booked orders for bridges, buildings and structures aggregating 71,000 tons during June.

The New York contracts for buildings involving 15,000 tons of structural material were placed during the week. Chicago did a good business and has some large work in sight. In the plate trade, mills in the Central West have been forced, through sheer inability to make deliveries, to transfer work to some good rail orders have been make deliveries, to transfer work to Eastern mills.

Some good rail orders have been placed lately, including 15,000 tons with one mill in the Central West and 30,000 tons with an Eastern plant.

The event of the week in the lighteg lines has been the adjustment between the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co. and the Amalgamated Association of both the sheet and the tin plate scales. The men receded completely from their demands for an advance in wages and accepted substantially the existing scales.

One very important point was made.

One very important point was made and that is that the clauses relating to restricting of output were eliminated. This has been a sore point with those manufacturers whose mills were under union rule.

The rebate of 1½ per cent in wages on tin plates intended to supplant foreign plates imported under the drawback clauses continue to August 1. After that date it may be restored by the company to the original 3 per cent rebate, if conditions require it. The settlement of the wage questions in these two important branches removes practically the only cloud on the horizon. From a market point of view only a prolonged struggle could have affected values.
